ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC JUNCTION (N. M.), Feb. 15.—[Special.] Charles F. Lummis, of the Los Angeles Times, who has been recuperating in New Mexico for the past year, was bushwhacked at midnight last night by Mexicans. Lummis had been active in aid of a movement to punish cer-tain wealthy murderers, and to overthrow the corrupt and criminal bosses, whose crimes have made the Territory a by word. Frequent threats had been made against him, by the Bacas and their tools.

Last night, after writing until about 11:80, Lummis stepped outside the door of the adope room he rents in this Indian vil-lage, and was yawning and stretching, with one hand in the air, when a man hidden behind a wall a few rods distant, fired two charges of buckshot in rapid succession and then ran.

and then ran.

One of the shot struck Lummis in the right cheek and passed through into the throat where it lodged. Another grazed his scalp, cutting his hat. Another buried itself in a pocketbook full of papers.

For the first time in many months he was without a six-shooter, having laid aside the coat to which it was attached. He ran into the house for his shotung and with it the house for his shotgun, and with it hunted for the assassin until so weak from loss of blood that he was obliged to seek assistance. But the Mexican had made his escape. Only one was seen running, but it is supposed he had companions. The door, which had swung to behind Lummis as he stepped out, was riddled with buck-

THE CROP OUTLOOK.

The Hainfall Generally Sufficient in California.

San Francisco, Feb. 13.—[By the Associated Press.] Some anxiety has been expressed in commercial circles of this city less the present drought and prevailing north winds result in proof crops in the north winds result in poor crops in the cereal producing valleys of the State. Manager Montpelier of the Grangers Bank states that advices from all parts of Cali-fornia from Red Bluff to Bakerstield show states that advices from all parts of Calitornia from Red Binf to Bakersiield show that summer fallowed wheat is in good condition, but that late sown grain is badly in need of rain, the north winds having formed crusts on the moist and heavy lands of the Sacramento and San Joaquin Valleys, and this is keeping this grain back. But linasmuch as summer fallowed wheat amounts to nearly three-fourths of the entire acreage in the Sacramento Valley and between one-half and two-thirds of the acreage of the San Joaquin Valley, he did not consider the prospect discouraging.

At the headquarters of the viticultural Commission it was stated that the season to date has been a good one for grape-growers, and that with heavy rains during the next
two months a big crop of grape-growers,
and that with heavy rains during the next
two months a big crop of grape-growers,
and that with heavy rains during the next
two months a big crop of grape-growers, and that with leavy rains during the next the one-quarter of the usual yield.

Chief United States-Signal Officer Maxfield stated that contrary to experience, the past year's season in Northero California has been extremely dry, while in Southern California, from Los Angeles to the Mexican line, has been more than the usual rainfall.

The great wheat-growing districts of Eastern Washington and Oregon are now suffering from severo drouth, and unless rain comes very scon the crop will be a fallure.

Speaking of the rain, Superintendent Fill-rain comes very soon the crop will be a failure.

Speaking of the rain, Superintendent Fillmore of the Southern Pacific said this evening: "Yes, we have had rain today at many points on our system; not a great deal, but enough to do good, and the barometer all along the line indicates more rain. It has rained some in Southern California, particularly on the desert below Indio. There have been both rain and snow in and about the Santa Clara Valley along the coast division, and there has been a slight fall in the San Joaquin Valley. There has also been snow at Colfax, on the Central Pacific, and at Placerville."

MERCED (Cal.), Feb. 15.—A light fall of rain last night: Indications for more.

PETALUMA (Cal.), Feb. 15.—A cold rain began last night. The Sonoma Mountains were covered with snow the first time this winter. It is still cloudy and cold.

SAN JOSE, Feb. 16.—Several heavy showers occurred last night. The first snow of the season appeared on the mountains east and west of town. It is raining at noon today.

Press.] Patrick Ryan, a salconkeeper, was found last night about midnight, by Officer Malone, who was attracted by groans, with his head beaten to a felly and his throat cut. He was still allve, but unable to articulate, although he tried to speak. In his agony he had crawled around the barroom and it was covered with blood. Death came to his relief in a short time. The motive for the crime is supposed to have been robbery, as Ryan was a quiet, in-offensive man.

It is surmised that the parties who committed the deed went in and called for a glass of beer, as there was lying on the counter 20 cents and on the floor a beer glass covered with blood. Ryan, who was in the act of retiring when called, must have been drawing the beer when he was struck on the head with an iron pipe. The blow did not cause unconsciousness, and it is surmised that Ryan recognized the parties, and to save themselves they cut his throat with some sharp instrument. They left the saloon without taking anything, although Ryan had on his person some money and a gold watch and chain, and in a cupboard behind the bar was a sack containing $60.

GORED TO DEATH.

Two Hunters Killed by a Herd of Wild Cattle.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—|By the Associated Press.] The Examiner's special from Cheyenne, Wyo., says: George and Albert Avery, brothers, and David Stockwell went rabbit hunting yesterday on a cattle range near Sweetwater. The men were all on foot, and, with their guns and game strung over their shoulders, they attracted the attention of a large band of wild cattle, which at once started for them with their heads and tails high in the air.

Stockwall ran until he reached a place of Stockwell ran until he reached a place of safety, but the Avery brothers turned and fired at the band of infuriated cattle. This did not stop them, and the 300 wild steers rushed upon the two men and trampled them into an unrecognizable mass. The bodies were brought in and buried this morning.

THE TOBACCO TAX.

A Bill for Its Repeal to Be Reported in the House. WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—¡By the Associated Press.] The House Committee on Ap-propriations today resolved to report favor-ably the substitute for the Cowles Internal Revenue Bill. The substitute proposes the entire repeal of the tobacco tax, and omits the "moonshine" sections of the Cowles

Those in favor of the measure were landall Clements, Felix Campbell of New York, Seney, Cannon, Ryan, Butterworth, Long, McComas and Henderson. Those opposed to it were Forney, Foran, Sayers and since. Forney says he will report a substitute bill, removing the duty on manufactured tabacco and snuff, but not on cigars and cheroots.

Representative Sayers said he intended to prepare a minority report for presentation. He said: "I am opposed to reducing the surples by taking off the tax on cigars, cheroots and eigarettes, until we have first reduced the customs duties on the necessaries of life.

"There appears to be some difference of opinion as to the measure of privilege which the Revenue Bill will possess which may later bring on a conflict on the floor of the flouse between the Ways and Means and Appropriations Committees. It might be well to state the position of the last National Committee in the matter. While it does not contend that any committee other than that of Ways and Means is privileged to report a revenue bill at any time, it holds that under the rules when a bill is once reported and placed on the calendar, if will itself be privileged and that a nuction may at any time be made to go into com-

To succeed in taking up the Tobacco Bill it would be necessary for the House to lay aside any revenue bill preceding It ou the calendar, and if the Ways and Means Committee should anticipate the report of the Committee on Appropriations by reporting another tariif bill this might prove a serious but not necessarily a unsurmountable obstacle to the accomplishment of the wishes of friends of the bill to repeal the tobacco tax."

The formal action of the Appropriations Committee upon the Cowles Bill was to strike out sections 1, 2, 3 and 4 and substitute sections 1 and 2 of Randall's Tariif Bill introduced last session, and also to strike out sections 6, 2, 10, 11, 12 and 16 of the Cowles Bill. In the shape in which it will be reported, the bill provides that after July 1st next all laws now in force whereby farmers and producers of tobacco are restricted in the sale and disposition of the same, and all laws relating to internal revenue taxes on manufactured tobacco, sufficigars, cheroots and cigarettes and the special taxes required by law to be paid by manufacturers of and dealers in leaf tobacco, retail dealers of nondealers in leaf tobacco, retail dealers of sound dealers in leaf tobacco, peddlers of tobacco, souff, cigars, and manufacturers of souff and of cigars, shall be repealed. It is provided also that drawbroken factory packages in the hands of manufacturers and dealers when the law takes effect, and redemption at pro rate valuation of the special tax stamps is provided takes effect, and redemption at pro rata val-uation of the special tax stamps is provided

The second section provides that all internal revenue laws inviting, restricting or regulating the manufacture, sale or exportation of tobacco, snuff, cigats, cheroots and cigarettes shall be repealed on July 1st next, but that no drawback shall be allowed upon such articles entered for export on or after that date. A proviso declares that all laws now in force shall remain and have full force and effect in respect to all offenses committed, liabilities incurred or rights accruing or accrued prior to the date when the repeal of the taxes shall take effect.

Another section provides for the aboli-tion of minimum punishments wherever prescribed for the violations of internal revenue laws, with leave for the court to impose any line or punishment within a maximum. It is also provided that war-rants for arrests shall be returnable before a competent judicial officer at the place near-cest to the arrest, who shall have exclusive authority to make the preliminary examina-tion, ball, discharge or commit the prisoner. The United States courts are also given au-thority te appoint commissioners wherever necessary.

The remaining sections forbid the destruction or mutilation of selzed distilling apparatus, and authorize United States judges to make proper orders for the comfort of persons whose lives or health is endangered by close confinement.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Democrats were "all broke up" yesterday over the Abbott matter, and leading members of the party were around all day members of the party were around all day trying to explain how the notorious character happened to be elected to a place on the City Central Committee. Secretary Clarke and other leaders insisted that the announcement that Abbott had been elected a committeeman was a mistake on the part of the secretaries; that he had been defeated by Bob Dominguez by three votes, and that when the mistake was discovered Abbott was promptly bounced, and Dominguez put on in his place. Abbott, on the other hand, says that he was fairly elected; and that he withdrew in the interest of harmony. At any rate, there is a big muss over the whole matter, which is not greatly improved by the substitution of Dominguez.

City Surveyor Dockweller was busy explaining yesterday that he was in no wise responsible for the disgraceful manner in which Mr. Lambie was treated when he attempted to address the Democratic convenion Thursday. He says the papers put him in a false attitude by saying it was his friends who were quility of the outrage.

After recess Mr. Gage, counsel for defense, called Charile Kasson, who accompanied Smith on their fatal hunting expedition on the 3d of last November. He is, like the defendant a good looking youth, about 17 years old, and told his story in a straightforward manner, assisted upon cross-examination by the spirited objections of counsel for the defense. His testinony was about as follows:

KASSON'S STORY OF THE TRAGEDY.

KASSON'S STORY OF THE TRACEDY. On the morning of November 8d, of last year, Stephen Smith and myself started from Pasadena about 4 o'clock in the morning to go hunting. We went toward Glendale, up the hill west of Buena Vista. We came to a ranch where there was a sign up: "No hunting," and went on until ye supposed we had left that land. Finally we started some quait and followed them. We got a shot at them, and heard some one shouting at us. Whoever it was motioned for us to stop, and we did so, sitting down on the ground and taking out a lanch we had brought with us. We saw two persons coming toward, and one of them was pointing and at us. They came up cursing and swearing at us. They came up cursing and swearing at us. They coke our guns away from us. One of them was Frank Pagliuso, and the other Pietro Pagliuso, the deceased. Both of them were armed, the deceased with a shotgun and the uncle with a rifle, Frank cursed and swore at us. After taking the guns, be handed them to Pietro. He did not say anything about us stopping shooting. He pointed his rifle at us, and said he would not shoot us if we followed him. He pointed at Smith, too. He pulled Smith's gun out of his hands, I think. We went with him. We were frightened. We went to his shanty. We went because he commanded us to, and we were in fear at the time. On the way we talked with him and got him caimed him down some. He said he had a team ready and would take us to Los Angeles. He said he would keep the guns, and we could have them when we got him down to $20. He told us that if we came that day or the next we could get them. Then we went home. I got $10 and Smith got some money, and we went back. My home was about six miles from there. We arrived at the chanty again about 4 o'clock and went to the door. Pietro was there and spoke to us. I didn't understand exactly, but thought he said something about the guns; it was broken English. We said ye, rightened, ran away. We ran around the house and feli into a ditch or weath about seventy-five eceased drank his wine. We got a drink of water. He then said something about the guns; it was broken English. TESTIMONY OF THE ACCUSED.

Stephen Smith, the accused, then took the stand, very much affected by the episode that had occurred, but just as quietly as his mother and father, trying to rise to sode that had occurred, but just as quietly as his mother and father, trying to rise to see that had occurred, but just as quietly as his mother and father, trying to rise to see that had occurred, but just as quietly as his mother and spects showed a careful home training. house, afraid that Pietro had gone for a gun. The story of the tragedy was as follows:

"When Pietro demanded the $20, I put my hand in my pocket and pulled out $2.50, all that I had. When he went into the house, angrily, I started to run with Kasson, and we fell into the ditch together. I don't know what became of him after that, as we ran in different directions. I suppose Pietre followed him. He pointed his gun at us when we got out of the ditch, and we ran again, when he lowered his gun. I did not notice how we were running. I was bewildered. Then I looked around He had got between Kasson and myself and got me between the house and him (Pietro). I saw him cock his rifts and raise it to his shoulder, aiming at me. I wheeled around when I saw him about to shoot me, and fired my own gun. I fired because I thought be would kill me if I did not fire. He was slightly below me. He had his gun at his shoulder, pointed at me."

During this recital the young accused was scarcely able at times to speak, but evidently tried to be as self-possessed as possible. His father was put on the stand to corroborate his statement that money had been given him to get his gun, which he did. The defense thereupon rested its case. There being no evidence in rebuttal, the argument of counsel was postponed until this morning at 9 o'clock, and court adjourned. It was a generally expressed opinion among the spectators present that the youthful defendant stands a good show for adquittal.

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved me $200,90 (two hundred dollars) and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head, in a spot not larger than a cont. It spread rapidly all over my body and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel right to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ringworm, psorissis, etc. I took and Barsaparillas over one year and a half, but no cure. I went to two or three doctors, but no cure. I went to two or three doctors, but no cure. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was three boxes of CUTICURA REMOTER. And three bottles of CUTICURA BOAP. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $230.00, you, would have had the money. I looked like the picture in your book of paorinais. opicture number two. "How to Cure Skin Diseases", but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit, I rub my hands over my arms and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me. I thank you a thousand times. Anything more that you want to know, write me, or any one who reads this may write to me, and I will answer it.

> I am going to tell you of the extraordinary me. About the 1st of April last I noticed some red pimples like coming out all over my body, but thought nothing of it until some time later on, when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers, accompanied with itching. I would coratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the scales, being formed meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your Curtuua Remander, is and obtained almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scale crupicins gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, and have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the Curicura Remapiers, and in four or five weeks was catirely cured. My disease was cozema and psoriasis. I recommended the Curicura Remapiers to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have babes with scaly eruptions on their fieads and bodies. I cannot express in words my thanks to you. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.

The Fresno Distillery Case Yester-

The Freeno Distillery Case Yesterday.

There were several witnesses on the stand yesterday in the W. Moore Young revenue case in the United States District Court, principally for the introduction of corroborative evidence to that of Eil B. Davis, the ex-superintendent of the Fruitvale Wine and Fruit Company. Davis was recalled in the morning by the defense, to answer some questions in regard to his statement that he had frequently seen Young sign Trensurer Blasingame's name to obecks, in paying accounts against the company. He was interrogated sharply by counsel, and it was developed that what he meant by his statement was that he had seen Young write Blasingame's name in drafts directed to Blasingame as treasurer of the corporation. The counsel for defense then questioned him in regard to the figures he had made the day before, giving the amount of brandy made by the distiliery during its run from September to the last of December, 1887. Davis corrected his testimony of the day before that the total run of the distillery was 7320 gallons of brandy where his error had resulted in calculating it several thousand dollars less than it really was. His figures yesterday gave the total amount made during the period named 13,984 gallens of 150-proof and 2075 gallons of 100-proof.

A Barber and a saloon Man Get at

Coats

Rather a singular little fight took place in a barber shop on Temple street, near New High, restarday afternoon between Charles Youngworth and a bartier named Cobb.
Youngworth keeps the saloon on the corner of New High and Temple streets, and for some time he and Cobb have been quite chummy, but they are bitter enemies now and it is hard to tell where the fight will end. It seems that Youngworth was standing in the barber shop warming his coattalls, when Cobb began to "josh" him about the "gurls." To this the little saloon man retorted:

"If you don't was look a liddle oudt some of dot guiris vot you mashes ven dey basses py dot blace vill youse von pig club mit your head oudt, und you don't know noddings."

Cobb gave ball, and will have a hearing

Cobb is quite a lady's man, and the suposition is that he has been toying with nothing, however, to substantiate this opinion, as nothing suspicions was discovered.

The alarm was first telephoned in to the Plata engine-house, but by a mistake the engine went out to Twelfth street, thinking it was the car barn at that place. The East Los Angeles engine got to the fire, but as the nearest water was in a zanja about a quarter of a mile distant, nothing could be done.

The loss will probably be between $5000 and $4000. The amount of the insurance, if any, could not be learned.

Yesterday afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock a zasoline stove exploded at the New Denison lodging-house, on Main street, below fourth. The engines turned out, but there was no necessity for them, as the flames were extinguished before their arrival. The damage was only nominal.

The examination of Tim Lyons, charged with perjury, was taken up in Justice Savage's court yesterday. According to the complaint, on the 29th of last December, before Justice Dinsmore of Soledad township the defendant was a witness against J. B. Taylor and Andrew Hughes, who were examined on a charge of arson in setting fire to the barn of one O'Reilly. Lyons appeared upon the scene in time to extinguish the flames before serious damage had been done. In giving his testimony, Lyons swore that the two men passed within 15 feet of him soon after the fire broke out. They proved an allbi and were discharged. They in turn had Lyons arrested on a charge of wilful perjury and employed counsel to assist the District Attorney in the prosecution.

Dottle Barretto Againate Dottle Barretto, the notorious little Alameda-street courtesan, was again atrested last evening. She was making a show of herself at her den, when Officer Dorsey insisted that she should cease her scandalous proceedings. The woman then turned on the officer, and gave him a piece of her mind, which resulted in her being taken into custody on a charge of disturbing the peace. She was released on depositing $30 buil for her appearance.

Should Be Looked into:
A San José printer named A. K. Eastir claims to have received a queer proposition from a Lancaster Constable named Johnson quest of employment, but stopped off at Lancaster. He was met by Johnson who, he claims, told him that if he would consent to be arrested as a tramp his fars would cost him nothing and that he (Johnson) would divide the fees with him.

THE Palermo Colony of Butte county has an advertisement in the Century in which the following statement is made:

The northern citrus belt of California is now recognized as the most reliable section of the State for citrus fruit culture. The temperature there is more uniform, strange as it may appear, than that of Southern California. As an orange belt its superiority over Riverside is demonstrated by the fact that oranges ripen sooner by two months in the northern than in the southern belt. The first citrus fair of the season last year was held in December in Oroville, Butte county, while Riverside did not hold hers until February.

The attempt to induce easterners many of them with very limited means to invest their money in orange culture in Northern California is nothing less than criminal.

THE United States has not yet begun to realize its own resources. It will probably take us another decade to obtain an approximate idea of what we are capable of-to gauge our undeveloped wealth.

Take the extreme Northwest, for instance. When Alaska was purchased, many thought that the United States had made a fool's bargain. We are only just beginning to find out that it was one of the best speculations which Uncle Sam ever entered into. The purchase price has already been repaid by the revenue derived by the Government from the seal fisheries. This, however, is only one item. It is estimate that at least a million dollars of capital will be employed during the coming season in the salmon fisheries of Alaska. In this State the run of salmon is growing lighter every year. The supply on the Columbia River is much reduced. Everywhere this side of Alaska the supply is slowly diminishing. In Alaska the supply is becomputation. The streams yond rivers are full of salmon, and a thousand miles of coast afford good fishing. The quality is of the best. Alaska will soon be the chief field of the Papific Coast salmon fish-

Very valuable discoveries of fresh ing grounds have also been made along the coast of Alaska recently The best codfishing grounds in America are said to be located there. Then, there are the fur seals, gold mines, tim-ber and coal, so that it will easily be seen that the purchase of Alaska by the United States was a very good barCuddy's Crime.

After forty-eight hours of reflection, the Herald comes out with an article on the imprisonment of Cuddy, which it terms "a case of hardship." The Herald first pays Judge Ross a few compliments on his high judicial quali-fications and high character and then asserts the existence of a teeling among the public that Cuddy was "in discreet, rather than intentionally criminal." It is very certain that such an opinion is confined chiefly to the Herald office, and to the ex-Chief's imediate followers. What twaddle to ssert that this ex-receiver of bribes from gamblers, and present concocter of dirty political jobs, was "led away by an impetuous desire to serve his The dragging into the question of Mr. Cuddy's female relatives is also in very bad taste. He is of age and knows the consequences of crime.

For crime it most undoubtedly was, and crime of the most dastardly and dangerous description—an attempt to defeat the ends of justice by the use of money. Should such a course be permitted to become general, a poor man would have no chance whatever in a court of law. The sack would be allpowerful, and a rich man could do as e pleased.

Thanks to Judge Ross's prompt action, such crime will be at a discount here for some time to come.

Cuddy was righteously sentenced Any attempt to plead the "baby act" for him is an insult to common sense. Cuddy is not a chicken by any means He knew what he was doing. Of course he did not expect to be caught.

That, however, is a very poor defense. When Cuddy was charged with receiving bribes as Chief of Police from gamblers, the Herald accepted the respensibility of his actions for the Democratic party. Will it also indorse his attempt to bribe some one else? It, looks like it. But will the respectable element of the local Democracy consent to be saddled with such an unsavory incubus?

That is an interesting question.

A Republican Opportunity.

It is the usual and expected thing after a nominating convention for the nominees to be referred to, seriatin, as "very weak" or "remarkably strong," according as it may be a Republican or a Democratic editor who is writing.

THE TIMES does not pursue this ourse. We have too much respect for the intelligence of our readers to pretend to tell them that the nominees of one party are all admirable Crichtons and of the other escaped convicts. There was probably never a ticket nominated which did not contain some weak and some strong points.

The same is true of the ticket just nominated by the local Democracy. Some of the names on that ticket are those of good men, who would do credit to the ticket of the Republican party; others are weak, while several are positively bad. Taken altogether, there is no doubt that, apart from any partisan view of the case, the average decent citizen will regard the list of men put up to be voted for as a far from strong or representative one. In fact, it is a weak ticket. It is so characterized by a large number of prominent Democrats.

Here, then, is a good chance for the Republicans to carry the election. All they have to do is to nominate clean, decent, representative, respectable citizens, such as they would be willing to entrust with the keys of their safes and the freedom of their houses. Such men can be elected. Besides polling the full Republican vote, they would receive the votes of the Reformers and adds the following interesting information, which may throw some further light on the scheme. We are not forgetting that the asserted object of the undertaking has been denied by its originators, but that was to have been expected. The enterprise will, in any case, bear careful watching on the part of the authorities. The Bee says:

of the authorities. The Bee says:

It is evident that the Chinese are not satisfied with the Scott Exclusion Bill. Every Chinaunan cherishes the desire to visit his native land, but if he does so now he cannot return. The Mexican scheme would relieve him in this particular. It is understood that there are some thirty or forty thousand fraudulent 'return certificates' that Billy Boyd and his co-conspirators were unable to utilize, because of the sudden and unexpected passage of the Scott Bill. These bogus certificates are worth a round million if they can be made to represent a Chinaman apiece. The Supreme Court at Washington is beling asked to determine whether Chinamen with return certificates can be lawfully excluded or not. It has been said that Buckley has undertaken the job of keeping Boyd out of the penitentiary in exchange for the latter's stock of bogus certificates. Boyd's trial comes up regularly in the courts of San Francisco, and is as regularly postponed. If the Mexican scheme should fail, Buckley, with his mine of fraudulent certificates, will try and make it interesting for the white laborer of California. The Chinese have some shrewd and powerful friends, and it would be surprising if the Scott Bilt were knocked out, if not in one way, then in another.

Where the Money Goes.

The State need have a pretty long ourse to stand the demands made upor it at each meeting of the Legislature. A mere list of the bills introduced this ason making a demand on the State Treasury would cover more than a page in THE TIMES. Here are a few of the items:

THE unfortunate habit of leaving aucuses to be called by a member of the Central Committee in each ward, who often neglects to do so, paves the way to all manner of fraud, permit ting caucuses to be called in out-ofthe-way places by disreputable indi-viduals, actuated by nefarious mo-tives. By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.— By the Associ ed Press.] The Secretary of War today ansmitted to the Senate a response to the solution calling for information relative the issuing of a confidential order Januto the issuing of a confidential order January 4, 1886, by Gen. Benet, Chief of Ord nance, instructing the commanding officers at national armories and arsenals to favor Democrats, other things being equal, in appointments and discharges from the service, the object as stated in the erder being to divide the force gradually between Republicans and Democrats.

Secretary Endicott says that during the year 1855 there were numerous applications made to him on behalf of mechanics, artisans and others for employment in arsenals and armories, and that, as is well understood, these appointments do not fall within the provisions of the Civil Service Law. These applications for employment, the Secretary says, came mainly from persons who claimed that they had been hitherto excluded from such employment because they were Democrats. He adds:

"The reply made to such applications was that no removals would be made of deserving and efficient workmen merely on account of their political opinions, but as vacancies occurred, if the applicants were competent to perform the work required and otherwise qualified, and their service needed, they would be received. This decision was strictly adhered to. In conversation with the Chief of Ordnance, the Secretary suggested that as a majority of the places in armories and arsenals were held by Republicans, in making changes preference should be given to Democrats until the places were substantially divided between the two political parties. The Chief of Ordnince approved the suggestion, and issued the order mentioned in the resolution."

count of political opinions, and was not so construed by the officers, to whom it was addressed.

"No removals," the Secretary continues, "have been made on account of the order, and at the Springfield (Mass.) Armory, the largest of all the armories, there have been only by changes of permanent workmen ince January, 1886, in a force of 480 men." The Secretary says he had no desire to conceal the order, and does not know it was marked confidential. He says that no measures have been taken by the War Department to learn the political opinions of women and children in its employment, and that Gen. Hencet states that the circuiar was made applicable to them because it had been found by long experience that disputes over politics were as prevalent among this class as among their husbands and father.

TO CUT DOWN REVENUES

A Free Trade Bill from the Ways and Means Committee.

Washington, Feb. 15.—[By the Associated Press.] The Ways and Means Committee this morning practically decided to reports bill making an estimated reduction in revisions of about seventy millions.

The free fist in the Tariff Bill as fixed by Ways and Means Committee is almost identical with that of the Mills Bill.

The report of the committee referring to the Senate Finance Committee says in part: "The policy of the party represented the Senate Finance Committee says in part: "The policy of the party represented by the Finance Committee is a policy of restriction not only against the import of products but restriction against the distribution of wealth among the masses by permitting them to buy where they can buy cheapest and sell where they can sell highest. It is restriction against the employment of labor, restriction against the demand for employment and better wages. It is contended by them that if we exclude foreign imports our own manufacturers and mand for employment and better wages. It is contended by them that if we exclude foreign imports our own manufacturers and their workmen will supply them, and that will give employment to our own people."

The report adduces figures and statistics of the operation of farill law in the past years to meet the Senate contention and declares: "Those years which showed decreasing importations were among the darkest in our industrial history. It is contended that reduced duties mean larger extended that reduced duties mean larger exportations, and that increased exportations mean thereased prosperity; that 90 per cent, of the goods consumed in the United States are produced at a lower cost than in foreign countries, which is a sufficient answer to the scarecrow that the tree importation would result in rulining our industries and labor. It is said that reduction in rates will increase the importation of articles now imported, constituting less than 5 per cent, of the consumption, but it would not bring to this country any of the articles now produced at home, because they can be and are produced and sold but it would not bring to this country any of the articles now produced at home, because they can be and are produced and sold here cheaper than they can be produced abroad and imported and sold here in competition with our own. A lowering of ductes will not increase the importation of any of the articles which we manufacture at home, but it will lower the price to the consumer."

The committee says: "The policy defined and declared by the Finance Committee is destructive of all American industries except that of building up privileged classes, who are to be enriched and kept so by the prostitution of the taxing power of the Government."

prostitution of the taxing power of the Government."

The report says there is no good reason a systhe sugar bounty provision of the Senate bill should be adopted, and concludes with a statement that there will really be no reduction of the customs revenue under the provisions of the Senate substitute.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—[By the Associated Press.] McAuliffe must fight Myers again or forfeit his share of the $5000 stake money. Myers and his backer, Alf Kennedy, came up from Streator this evening and entered a formal protest against taking down the money at stake in the recent world's championship light-weight prize fight at North Judson. It understood that there has been great debating going on in Streator as to the advisability of another battle, and the verdict was, "Billy can win." Objections to dividing the stakes followed without delay. Myers claims that his backers, not himself, are responsible for his exclusively defensive tactics. He says that in the next fight he will do as he always did previously—act on the aggressive, expecting McAuliffe to be only a little harder to land than was Glimore.

The New Railway Agreement Will Probably Be Adopted.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—[By the Associates Press.] It now seems probable that the Interstate Commerce Railroad Association agreement will soon go into effect, by having received the signatures of the presidents of the roads embraced in the territory covered. President Hughitt of the Northwestern road received advices from Bostos this afternoon that President Perkins of the Burlington road had finally signed. President Cable of the Rock Island road who returned from Colorado today, told an Associated Press reporter that the agreement had also been signed by the president of the Denver, Texas and Gulf road, formerly the Denver and Ft. Worth. If this report is correct, there yet remain to sign only the Burlington and Northern, the lilinois Central and the Kansas City, Ft. Scott and Gulf, and it is considered probable that the first-named road will follow in the lead of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy. The adhesion of the Illinois Central will at any rate comply with the terms of the agreement. President Cable is of the opinion that all the roads will eventuality sign, as, in his opinion, they could not afford to stay out of the association. The contention of the Burlington and Northern lines must be included he did not think would be incited on, as the association could protect the Burlington and Northern against them if necessary by duced action as well as that line could protect itself acting independently.

It comprises 44 documents, extending from December 8, 1986, to February 5, 1886. Among the documents relating to recent events is the report o, the German Consul at Apia, dated February 24, 1888. It describes the endeavors of Americans and English to provoke conflicts. A dispatch dated September, 1888, deals with the revolt of Mataafa and the support given to him by Capt. Leary, U.S.N.

ANNEXATION OUT OF THE QUESTION.

On January 8th Count Herbert Bismarck electraphed the German Cousul at Apla into account of the agreement with the inited States and Great Britain, the annextion of Samos by Germany was out of the nestion.

ation of Samoa by Germany was out of the question.

A dispatch sent to the German embassies at Loudon and Washington on January 18th states that the object of military measures against Mataats. and his partisans was to punish the murderers of German soldiers, and to secure to German subjects possession of their property.

A document dated February 2, 1889, sent by Count Herbert Blamarck to Admiral Baron von der Goltz, chief of the German admiratty, says: "Germany is not at war with Samoa, as the term is understood by international law, but she regards Tamasses as the rightful ruler and Mataafa as a reabel, against whom and his followers retailation must be enforced. Any one standing by them is a promoter of the conflict between them and the Germans, and must take the consequences." Count Herbert concludes by declaring that nothing is changed in the legal position of foreign subjects in Samoa.

On December 17th Blacklock complained that druhken sallors from the German manof-war Olga had committed outrages in Apia, entering houses and wounding men and women. Dr. Knappe reported later that foreigners had spread a rumor that the Germans had been forbidden to interfere. This rumor had the effect of encouraging the malives who stoned German sallors and destroyed Germap property.

In January Prince Hismarck notified Dr. Knappe that reprisals were necessary, but only such as were consonant with the treaties with England and America. The Chancellor safet: "Because Matsafa assanted Tamasese we shall interfere, only succording Tamasese." Frince Bismarck charged Dr. Knappe to entreat the other foreign consuls to combine in order to restore peace.

The white book ends with a long report from the German Consul at Apia. The report is dated January 4th, and has thirteen appendices dealing with events from December 4, 1898. These record that, on December 19th, Mataafa in an humble letter sought to open negotiations with the Consul, but would not surrender himself, although needges were given that his life would be spared. In a subsequent letter Mataafa promised to surrender in the presence of the British and Augerican Consuls. The German Consul declined to entertain the offer.

Soames said Pigott told him of interviews he had with Solicitor Lewis and Labouchers. The latter sent Pigott several 210 notes. Pigott showed witness a letter from Solicitor Lewis accusing him (Pigott) of having admitted that he forged the letters and his reply, whereupon witness required that a statutory declaration be made in which Pigott detailed all communications between himself and Solicitor Lewis including the offer of £1000 by Lewis on behalf of Labouchere, if he would swear he had forged the letters. The boys tell a good story on a gentleman who came from Ohio last fall, and has begun to piant orange and deciduous fruit trees. He has heard a good deal on the streets about the deadly scale bug lately, and when a friend asked him the other day what he was going to do to keep the bug out of his place, replied that he was saving a lot of old suits of clothing that would do the business. It was found that he was really contemplating the setting up of scare-crows all about his orchard for the purpose of keeping, the pest out of his property. It did not take long to convince him that something more effective than some old scarecrows was necessary.

The Fight Gues On.

[San Bernardino Courier.]

The Los Anosles Times is pouring brainy broadsides into the pooled arbitrary swindlers. Let her go, Gallagher! Fire away, Flannigan! Thunder again, Otis!

There is no reason to doubt that the pooled swindlers know well that they are violating the law daily, and that they calculate upon being permitted to continue the swindle, through the default of the people. So far as San Bernardino is involved, they are mistaken. Neither secret servents nor ferfety heads of departments can induce the people of San Bernardino to acquiesce in their own robbery. The programme for Oriental day was a good one, and consisted of a selection by a beyy of young ladies in the "Sun-flower" shorps. A diarrhyster flower" shorus. A distribution of the souvenir leaflet in the form of a Turk-ish legend, was distributed to all the guest present. It reads as follows:

Souvehir of the Oriental Department. certain Pasha, dead five thousand years are from his barem fled in sudden tears. And had this sentence on the city's gate Deeply engraved: "Only God is great."

So these four words above the city's noise Hung like the accents of an angel's voice:

And evermore, from the high barbacan, Saluted each returning caravau.

Lost is that city's glory. Every gust Lifts, with crisp leaves, the unknow Pasha's dust.

And all in ruin—save one wrinkled gate Whereon is written: "Only God is great."

The entertainment closed with a reading from Edward Arnold by Mrs. C. M. Stetson. This evening a grand musical programme was given under the direction of Miss Winston, which consisted of solos by Misses Dexter and Fleming and Sig. Modini of Los Angeles. A trio by the above concluded the evening's work.

NOTES. The favor today was the sunflower. Very few, however, were worn.

C. Mullholland of Inyo county and E. W. Jones of Los Angeles spent a pleasant hour taking in the loan ex-hibit. Both gentlemen took consider-able interest in the Mexican exhibit. The showcase in the historical department has been removed and now shows to better advantage.

The City Council meets tomorrow morning in regular session in the Council Chamber. There is a great deal of important business to be transacted, as the several committees have failed to get together during the week. The Auditing and Finance Committee, of whom was synetical as much last week. whom was expected so much last week, will, in all probability, settle up a large number of bills and clear the list. The delinquent tax list also relist. The delinquent tax list also requires some attention, and will be ordered printed in the official paper. The vacancy in the treasurer's office will be filled, and, in all probability, M. E. Wood appointed to the position, that gentleman thus far being first in the race. The matter of the purchase of a steam fire engine will be brought up, but no decisive action taken by the committee. The Street and Alley Committee will also decide whether Fair Oaks avenue shall be graded.

The elevator in the new Webster building made its initiatory trip this afternoon, and worked very satisfactorily. It is hoped now that this hotel can be opened at an early date.

This evening an unknown man, but to whom has been applied the name of John Doe, was run in by Officer Orr for keeping time with the wind in a successful attempt to blow away a canvastent near the Wooster block. When found he was in a mandlin condition, and with a mamoth flut was acad.

A SERIOUS BLUNDER.

A Lady Nearly Prostrated by a Patent

A lady well-known in the Western Addition has been a great sufferer for years with indiges tion and dyspepsia. Struck with the testimo nials praising Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, she sent for a bottle. The druggist, not having it sentior a bottle. The druggist, not having it, talked them into taking another sarsaparilla. As the leading sarsaparillas use mineral blood purifiers, the effect of the emptying of iodide of potash into a stomach already distressingly delicate was disastrous, almost prostrating her before the mistake was rectified. She then called upon Mrs. Fowler, of 327 Ellis street, whose near was among those cured by Lov's called upon are. Fower, or or himselves, whose name was among those cured by Joy'r Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Mrs. Fowler said it was true that it had cured her. Again reassured true that it had cured her. Again reassured, the vegetable compound was sent for and gotten. The gentle action of its vegetable stimulants upon the liver, kidneys and digestive organs, and its warm stomach tonies, were the very things needed, and she began improving and was her old self within a fortnight. This sounds like fletion, but the names can be given if necessary.—San Francisco Examiner.

OF GOSSIP ABOUT CARLETON'S ACTORS AND ACTRESSES.

A Claudestine Marriage, a Betraya and a Possible Shooting Affray in Future—A Birth and Death, and Every one who attended the Grand Opera-house last week during the Carleton en-gagement will be surprised to learn that the lively little Clara Lane, who made such a favorable impression, has had to give up her engagement, and will not be able to sing again during this season. The little sing again during this season. The little woman is about to become a mother, and her husband, J. K. Murray, who also made a great many friends here, noticed that his cute little wife was becoming very hoarse, and induced Mr. Carleton to allow her to withdraw from the stage for the time being.

There are not over two or three persons in Los Angeles who imagined for a moment that Miss Lane was a married woman. Had the young dudes about town who sent her costly flowers and sentimental notes nightly known that they were to be read by the savags Murray every night before going to bed, they would have gone around back of the opers-house and butted their shallow heads against a brick wall.

opera-house and butted their shallow heads against a brick wall.

Mrs. Murray-Lane, like almost all actresses, has a great big romance tangled up with her life's history.

This is her first season with Mr. Carleton, and before joining his company she was but little known to fame. She is only 21 years of age, and, up to the day she joined the Carleton's, she had never been engaged in an affair of the heart, so far as can be learned. But on that day she and Murray looked into each others' eyes for the first time.

coarned. But on that day she and Murray looked into each others' eyes for the first time.

They met at rehearsal, and the rest of the company noticed that it was a case of love at first sight. Mr. Carleton is the only one who did not notice the by-play of eyes that was going on, although he is ever on the look-out for such signs, and does all in his power to keep his people from falling in love with each other during a season. The love-making went merrily on until the company reached St. Louis, when the two lovers were quietly married by civil contract. Exerything was kept from Mr. Carleton, and he would probably have been in the dark until now had Miss Laue not been taken quite sick in San Francisco, when the whole story came out.

Mr. Carleton was quite angry when he learned how he had been deceived, and at once he compelled the couple to send for a priest and be regularly married. The marriage notice was set all over the country, much to the disgust of Murray, who had grave reasons for keeping the matter quiet, as the sequel will show.

NOTHER LOVE.

ANOTHER LOVE.

By this marriage with Miss Lane, Murray

By this marriage with Miss Lane, Murray has plunged into a scrape that may lead to a bloody encounter between himself and a young man named Morse, who is now chasing around the country after him, and will probably catch him in New Orieans. The trouble between the young men is simply this: Some time ago Murray met Morse's sister, Miss Annie Morse, who is now a member of Haymond's She Company, and they became engaged, but they were not married for the reason that they did not care to take the fatal step until they could get in the same compasy. They seemed to think a great deal of each other and were to have been married this spring. Miss Morse Enew nothing of her lover's antics until she read of the marriage in the newspapers. The poor little woman was almost heartbroken, but she bore up as best she could and made no complaints, and even when her brother came to her and told her that he had made up his mind to kill her betrayer as soon as he could meet him, she begged him not to harm the man she loved better than her own life.

Miss Lane knew nothing of her husband's entanglements with Miss Morse, or if she did, she thought nothing of the wrong that was being done a sister actress until it was too late.

A BABY SINGER.

During the engagement of the Carletons in this city, one of the pretty chorus girls occame a mother. The little stranger's birth was kept perfectly quiet, and the chances are that not over three or four persons, outside of the doctor and nurse, and the members of the company, who were made acquainted with the facts, have known anything about it. The girl and one of the male chorus singers were married shortly before the epening of the season, and spent their honeymoon on the train which brought them to California.

The young woman was not able to travel when the company left this city last Thurs-

The young woman was not able to travel when the company left this city last Thurs-day morning, and is still confined to her bed. Her child lived only a few days, and the next day after its death was quietly ouried, the only mouroers present being the lady members of the company and the lather. The mother will probably be well enough to travel next week, and hopes to join her company at New Orleans.
